

How to Access the Online Textbook

Our online textbook website does not play nice with Safari. Please make sure you are using Chrome or Firefox when accessing the online textbook.

Go to your class specific website, click the Register Now button, enter your email address, and enter the access code. Make sure the email address is one you actually check.

When the registration process is complete, you will be linked to the course, have access to the online textbook and be added to the roster. Wander around the site and get used to it.

Make sure you click, and enroll, in the CORRECT class period! You will have graded assignments through this website throughout the year and incorrect registration will result in missed credit.
